CAREERS IN ANIMATION
AN INFOGRAPHIC

3D MODELER

3D modelers create three-dimensional computer models by manipulating and designating heights, widths, and depths. Modeling is performed using a variety of programs such as Maya, Lightwave, and 3DS.
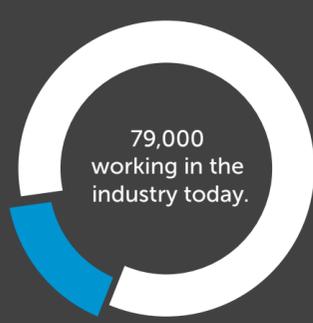

$56,330 A year *

SKILLS NEEDED

- Advanced math and computer skills.
- Above average creative and design skills.
- A Strong background in any given area of science.

$62,810 A year *

79,000 working in the industry today.

84% are hired by art directors and studios.

ANIMATOR

Animators create 2D and 3D images in motion for animated films, video games, commercials, and music videos. They create images, as well as special effects and other visual images, using video, film, or computer software.

VIDEO GAME DESIGNER

Video game designers use a combination of technology, science, engineering, mathematics, design, and animation skills to create realistic action packed video games.

$77,010 a year *

Overall employment growth in the video game design industry is expected to average 13.1 percent.

RECOMMENDED EDUCATION

- Computer science degree with a focus in computer graphics.

$60,195 A year *

ENTRY LEVEL VS. ADVANCED

2 years' professional experience
More than 5 years' experience in the industry.

FILM AND VIDEO EDITOR

Film and video editors are responsible for the cutting, assembling, and processing of film footage for multiple forms of digital media such as television shows, movies, and music videos.

$56,620 a year *

GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Graphic designers are responsible for developing the overall layout and production design of publications. They design and produce packaging for products, logos, and signs for businesses and some even design the overall look for film and television credits.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, website graphic designers with an animation background are in high demand and will have the most job opportunities for the 2008-2018 decade.

THANKS FOR VIEWING

MADE BY : ANDRE SANTOS
FOR ANIMATION 2 PROJECT WCTA

SPECIAL THANKS TO

ANIMATION
CAREER REVIEW
http://www.animationcareerreview.com/
FOR INFORMATION